

Composting

What is composting?

A way to make food for soil and plants from left over household waste.

Why is composting good?

- ★ You can use your household waste, instead of throwing it away (landfill).
- ★ You can feed soil and plants with the compost that you make.
- ★ Composting is the best way to make plant food (fertilizer). It reduces 'bad' gases (methane) and use of 'bad chemicals' (pesticides).
